When asked to describe how she felt about her alma mater, Greta replied, "In addition to my family and church, East Tech High School is where I received nurturing, discipline and support that will last a lifetime. Having the best teachers and school staff that went far and beyond the call of duty to ensure that their students were well rounded in terms of academic excellence, integrity and staying power. Regardless of ones academic readiness, facing adversities or diversities, East Tech brought out the best in ones abilities. I feel a responsibility of carrying on the tradition of scarab pride and am willing to do so via volunteering to the worthy cause of our East Tech students"
